It's 6pm on Sunday, 13. And we've had a couple of a couple good frasco you know, we lose all leaves and everything and it's becoming more and more paler apparent, you know, the that we've been this has been the that's been thrown in front of us. And anyway because every time seeing the Tyler's you know, they'll they'll go up that, you know, they'll come down the road, they'll be flying down the road. And as soon as they go right past their house and keep on going so that means they're either going to Abernathy and and I'm trying to think now they're going to Abernathy because they're going up pretty good and you and unless you slam on brakes, you wouldn't be going to dog. So that's what it's all looking about. You know, it's all it's we're pretty, pretty certain that this is all Abernathy is doing. We've got a little bit of evidence to verify that and it continued to work. That's what it is. So this is all how Abernathy gonna guide us for ruining his uh, his communist powerplant was its first worse. Yeah, he came up, them sort of the property around us. You know, if I were good, evidence of that. Actually, I wouldn't be to find evidence of that because I'm probably going to be soon as as anyway if I can get representation and find a good lawyer. Things are not going well right now. There's a national shortage of the that I take. There's a national shortage of that I take every day four times a day. There's a national shortage of it. And I've called at least 30 today and couldn't find it. And so things are not going well. Now, right now, last weekend, you know, we had another mix up and then this one and today he's I can't find So you and things are really not going good right now. And I don't know when I'll be able to find or even if I'll be able to and Because the shortage is so bad. And then so it's things are not really going good right now. You know, I called a broden forum and I tried to ask for help in the forum. basically did not get any help. My phone's about to die. So let it go. but you know, we're facing some some real outrageous right now, and we're facing these for absolutely no reason. It's alright. But um, yeah I was kind of an angle of my house for a different perspective in the and I looked out in front of us and saw the two big houses are going up right now and I'm and unreal. hadn't we never want to live this
