Hey, it's those turning right. There's one mark that I'm about one And we thought it was over, we kind of had, you know, though we had the side by side so roaming around your thought that, you know, whatever that that we've had and that had existed, kind of slow down there the onslaught. And that we hadn't really much out of anybody, But we were, we wrong. We're very wrong. One today. The diesel, that we have video footage of storming his way out here, and reading in from the house. One today he it you know did it that engine and and redline his engine right from for the house, one and then 115, here comes Mr And then he did it. So, we don't really know i mean we know who it is, you know, who's doing it all the time. And, You know, it's a daily thing now so nothing's really slowed down at all. When we thought it was slowing down but now it's not, it now we have two people doing it, instead of one. So, yeah, this is a, it's getting Well, They're exposing themselves more and more and it's getting more and more ridiculous. So we're going to keep the, I'm gonna write the sheriff deputy. Keep him informed and,
