It's 713 on Monday and I went to my house was to do my daily target practice and walking the dog anyway. Then Mr. Simmons came, drove down the road alongside me and he slowed down when he got beside me and then he stopped the middle of the road turned around. And then part route his up into his driveway in Chinese flashlights on the path and then he sat there and me which is another in a clear, and there's another chance another attempt at Stalking stalking is what it accounts into, you know, attempted into intimidation. So want to have this but it's, uh, you know, I don't know him, I don't know anything about him. never talked to him before in my life. And, you know, he's kind of, he's moved in with the intent to intimidate stalk and us until we and for as long as we live here, because they want us to move. I mean, that was the entire point of them coming over here was to force us out of the neighborhood. And it's pretty obvious. So I want to have it for purposes, that, you know, we did call the police on Friday, about the second incidence of verbal you know, attempts to interact in verbal and called the police on the second time. Friday, so now it's Monday obviously, still haven't hasn't learned. So we need to hurry up with the and find a attorney and, you know, we'll talk to the magistrate court and bang a piece of worn out. So does that need to happen? This is it's I mean, it's obvious I mean, so, more proof of our are correct. So there you go. Say this
